

THE ROLE OF THE ELECTION WORKER

WHAT DOES AN ELECTION WORKER DO?

The election worker acts as the first point of contact for people seeking to exercise their constitutional right to vote.

Elections can be so infrequent, that the election process can be confusing for many registered voters. It's up to the election workers to keep things running smoothly on Election Day.

- Check in all registered voters and distribute ballots
- Assist new voters who may be unaccustomed to the process
- Monitor activities at polling locations Ensure compliance with Massachusetts State Election Laws
- Count ballots in order to determine election results
- Process absentee and mail in ballots
